General Comments:

Investigation conducted in response to receiving two complaints (CO1006937 and CO1006935) stating that multiple ceiling tiles were observed missing exposing the outdoors. The complainants also described active leaks occurring resulting in flooding and contamination issues. During investigation, several ceiling panels were observed to be missing. Insulation was observed to be exposed, and light was observed coming in through one of the missing panels. No active leaks were observed, but blue tubs were observed stored inside of the ceiling for water collection purposes. Facility closed during investigation due to not being fully enclosed resulting in the potential contamination of food and food equipment from insulation debris and dust. During investigation the following open containers of food were voluntarily discarded:

- chopped tomatoes (approximately 1 pound)
- ground beef (approximately 0.5 pounds)
- banana peppers (approximately 1 pound)
- black olives (approximately 0.5 pounds)
- jalapenos (approximately 1 pound)
- pineapple (approximately 1 pound)
- mushrooms (approximately 0.5 pounds)
- bacon (approximately 0.5 pounds)
- pepperoni (approximately 2 pounds)
- mozzarella cheese (approximately 3 pounds)
- string cheese (approximately 0.5 pounds)
- tomato sauce (approximately 5 pounds)
- chicken (approximately 1 pound)
- provolone, parmesan, mixed American cheese (approximately 1 pound each)
- chicken nuggets (approximately 1 pound)
- ranch, buffalo hot, BBQ, mango habanero, butter oil, and cinna magic sauces (approximately 6 bottles each)

During investigation, facility replaced all of the missing ceiling panels and sanitized any/all affected surfaces. In the future, if any ceiling
